

Work-Life-Balance

Part-time & remote models, home office & Co.

In order to give our employees the flexibility they need to stay healthy in the long term and combine family and professional life in a relaxed manner, we offer both part-time models and “100% remote positions”. In addition, employees who have a full-time contract can apply for home office days at any time, even at very short notice. The option of parental leave for everyone is also a matter of course for us. We are an animal-loving company and also offer our employees the opportunity to bring their dog into the office every day. 100 percent of our employees have a permanent employment contract. We do not work with temporary staff. When working with subcontractors, we require them to respect human rights and pay the minimum wage at least. ■
